| (B-4) INSPECTION CHARGES FOR NEW CONNECTIONS (Informational Only) Current procedure at the Permit Counter is to collect all connection and inspection fees for new construction when a structure's roof is on and the rough plumbing is installed ("Roof and Rough"). Under the new procedure, a developer can choose to: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Connect at Roof and Rough, or 2. Connect at building foundation following the procedures outlined in the Standard Specifications. For either scenario, connection fees will be due and payable prior to permit issuance (consistent with District Code). The changes affect Category (B) Construction Inspection as shown below: | |
| Residential Connections (up to and including four units) at Roof and Rough: This fee is for inspection of new residential units connecting to CCCSD's mainline after the structure's roof is on and the rough plumbing has been installed. This fee includes: one building connection inspection and one side sewer inspection (up to 100 feet). Additional inspections and related fees may be required. | $530 per unit |
| Residential Connections (up to and including four units) at building foundation: This fee is for inspection of new residential units connecting to CCCSD's mainline prior to structure being roofed and rough plumbing being installed. This fee includes: one building connection inspection, one side sewer inspection (up to 100 feet), and two additional inspections as required per CCCSD Standard Specifications. Additional inspections and related fees may be required. | $1,060 per unit |
